NOTE FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

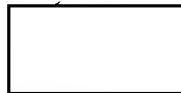

FROM: Anthony A. Lapham
General Counsel

If you accept this invitation, which is a course
I favor, I would like to go along. In general Supreme Court law clerks are the cream of the crop among recent law school graduates, are all headed for very good jobs, many in government, and are apt to be a lively and stimulating group.

MEMORANDUM FOR: The Record
Approved For Release 2004/04/12 : CIA-RDP80M00165A001900160030-5

On 30 September, I called Mrs. Sandy Nelson and firmed up the lunch at 1230 on Thursday, 17 November. Also arranged that Tony Lapham will accompany the DCI. Lunch will be in the Law Clerks Dining Room on the ground floor of the Supreme Court Building. Lunch will last for 1 to 1 1/2 hours. DCI may give short talk after lunch, followed by Q&A or he can omit the talk and just do the Q&A's. Mrs. Nelson offered to make arrangements for DCI to park in the garage; he would be met and escorted to the dining room. Alternatively, he could be dropped off at the entrance on 1st street, but he would have to walk up the steps into the building. We agreed to talk in about a month to firm up arrangements.

Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

As you may know, the law clerks to the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States regularly invite distinguished guests to have lunch with them in the Supreme Court Building. These occasions are quite informal and are designed, basically, to give the law clerks a broader perspective of the governmental process. The format varies according to the wishes of each guest. Usually, it simply consists of a short question and answer period after lunch.

This Term's law clerks have requested that I invite you to join them at a convenient date during the Term. We realize your schedule is a demanding one, but we would be both pleased and honored if you could join us. May I suggest a date in November or December. From our viewpoint, it would be preferable to schedule our gathering on a day that the Court is not sitting.

If a member of your staff would like to contact us to set a definite date and time, may I suggest that they contact Mrs. Sandy Nelsen here at the Court to set a date and time convenient to you. We are all looking forward to meeting you.

Sincerely,

H. Robert Mayer
